

The Johns Hopkins University Provost's Leadership, Advancement, and Development Academy (L.A.D. Academy) presents

Turning Tough Conversations into Growth Opportunities

Struggling with difficult conversations in academia?

Avoiding conflict can lead to unresolved issues and missed opportunities for collaboration.

The Turning Tough Conversations into Growth Opportunities course equips faculty with the skills to confidently navigate tough discussions, strengthen relationships, and foster a culture of respect.

Through interactive case studies, role-playing, and practical strategies, you'll learn to communicate effectively, manage conflict, and build trust within your academic community.

Enroll today and turn challenging conversations into opportunities for growth!
